to Church Leaders

WITH RESERVATIONS

That She Shall Have Enough to Live
On—Answer to Equity Action
Brought to Have Accounting
Made.

Concord, N. H., April 2.—The answer of the defendants to the equity suit against the principals of the Christian Science Church was filed in superior court at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It revealed that since the action was brought, Mrs. Eddy has transferred all her real and personal property to three of the head men in the church, who by virtue of that assignment are to be substituted as plaintiffs in place of Geo. W. Glover, Mary Baker Glover and Geo. W. Baker, Mrs. Eddy's relatives, who brought the action as "next friends."

The transfer of Mrs. Eddy's millions is made with the reservation that when she dies the assignees are to dispose of the property according to the terms of her will. She also reserves for her personal use, as long as she lives, her residence at Concord, and its furniture, horses, carriages, etc., and her two houses in Boston.

She stipulates that the trustees shall pay her from the income of the property such sums as she may need for keeping up the residence and for personal use. The trustees named are Henry M. Baker of Bow, N. H., Archibald McCallan of Boston, and Josiah E. Fernald of Concord. They must give bonds of $500,000 each and shall receive "reasonable payment" for their services.

Alfred Barlow, chief of the publication committee of the Christian Science in Boston, was in Concord for a few hours yesterday, and had a conference with General Streeter in relation to the case. Mr. Barlow also went to Pleasant View, but whether he saw Mrs. Eddy could not be learned. He returned to Boston late in the afternoon.

STRANG AT BRIDGEPORT.

Ex-Secretary at Pleasant View Visiting Parents.

Bridgeport, Conn., April 2.—Lewis C. Strang, ex-associate secretary to Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, the Christian Science leader, was seen at the home of his parents in this city yesterday afternoon. When asked for a statement, Mr. Strang merely smiled and replied, "I have nothing to say." He was recently replying to the defendants in the suit brought by the relatives of Mrs. Eddy, who desire an accounting of the property.

"The suit comes up in Concord tomorrow," said Mr. Strang. "I shall not go up there, but will be represented by counsel. The proceedings tomorrow will be of a technical nature and none of the real facts of the case will be brought out then."

"You see, I was associate secretary to Mrs. Eddy for 14 months. That's how my name came to be brought in as defendant in the suit. I went from Concord to Boston, where my home is, and then came to this city. My visit here is simply to my parents. It has nothing to do with business. When the case comes up before the New Hampshire court my position will be made clear. Until then I don't care to say anything."

Delehanty, and Franklin Sheridan, attendants of Thaw, were cross-examined by Jerome, who brought out nothing new. It is expected that Dr. McLean Hamilton will be the next witness.

Jerome asked Sheridan if he had ever heard Thaw talk about St. George rescuing the virgin from the dragon. He said, "No."

E. S. Walker, who was probation officer at the court of special sessions, and was a visitor at the Tomb and talked with Thaw, testified that Thaw's manners and talk were always rational.

YOUNG GIRL'S ACTIVITY.

May Have Saved Many Lives at Boston
Hotel Fire.

Boston, April 2.—The heroism of a young girl guest was the feature of a fire yesterday at the Hotel Nottingham on Huntington avenue, which caused a damage of about $3,000.

Three rooms on the fifth floor were burned out and the lower floors were damaged by water and smoke. The girl is Miss Louisa Plympton, 11 years of age, who is living at the hotel, and who, when a fire broke out, a great mass of smoke filling the corridors on the fifth floor, gave the alarm by rapping on the door of every room in the corridor, and then running upstairs warned the occupants of every apartment there.

She was partially overcome by smoke when discovered by the firemen, who removed her to the street. The fire started in the room on the fifth story occupied by Mrs. H. P. Perry, by an explosion of gasoline, which was being used by her dressmaker, Mrs. J. Coran. The latter was burned about the hands and was taken to the city hospital. Mrs. Perry's room, where she recovered papers and jewelry valued at $25,000, the property of Mrs. Perry.

The absence of casualties is attributed to the heroism of Miss Plympton and the discipline of the hotel employees.

STRIKE BOOKS OPEN.

So That Milford, Mass., Granite Cutters
May Sign.

Milford, Mass., April 2.—The strike of the Milford granite cutters brings out no excitement. One of the special operators, George J. Hutchins & Co., signed the new bill and at a special meeting yesterday the blacksmiths' union adopted the new bill as its own. The latter union elected this strike committee: James Garvey, Roy Baker, Harry Warley, John M. Minial, Curtis R. Joy.

The cutters' union kept open their strike books for enrollment of members that they might sign and be entitled to strike pay after this week and there was a feeling that the manufacturers would give way.

The cutters elected this strike committee: William A. Youngson, secretary, Joseph Hooper, Joseph Minial, Daniel F. Carney, Joseph Cooper.

About 185 cutters are idle, practically every member of the trade in town, but the local quarries have a total capacity of 800 to 1,000 cutters in all. Preparations to meet the crisis have been making by both sides since Jan. 1 last, hence the small number of cutters here now.

Hart struck only two blows in the second round, but Maher fell to the floor. Spectators hissed and shouted "fake." Those at the ringside declared that Maher simply quit.

SENT TO JAIL
FOR HIS ACTWilliam Hunt Ran Down and Killed Old Man

WAS INTOXICATED AT TIME

Sentenced in Chittenden County Court on a Manslaughter Charge and Is Given a Severe Lecture by the Presiding Judge.

Burlington, April 2.—In the case of State vs. William Hunt, charged with the manslaughter of John Earley, at Essex Junction last winter, the respondent pleaded guilty when arraigned in Chittenden county court yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to not less than 18 months nor more than two years at hard labor in the state prison at Windsor. He was also sentenced to pay the costs of prosecution.

Attorney General Fitts said from the facts he gathered from the witnesses before the grand jury, John Earley, the victim of the manslaughter, a man of 70 or 75 years of age, was a long time and respected resident of Essex Junction. The respondent was also a resident of Essex. He has no criminal record and nothing could be brought against him save his habits of intoxication. It appeared that he used intoxicating liquor to excess and that the death of Mr. Earley came in consequence of that habit.

The victim was dragged under one of the sled runners a distance of 400 yards, until the railroad tracks were reached. The suit concerned by the contact of the sled with the tracks was such as to cause the release of Mr. Earley from under the runners. He was picked up and taken to a nearby drug store and thence moved to his home, where he expired about half an hour after being thrown out from under the sled runners. Thirty fractures were found on his body.

V. A. Bullard, speaking in behalf of the respondent, emphasized the fact of Mr. Hunt's previous good character, saying he had no criminal record and that there was nothing against him except his habits of intoxication. At the worst, he said, the respondent's crime was involuntary manslaughter. He said that Mr. Earley was walking in the road instead of on the sidewalk at the time the accident occurred.

In imposing sentence, Judge Hall said manslaughter is one of the high crimes known to the law, and to read the evidence, the court, he said, recognizes that there are different degrees of manslaughter, just as the law does in providing life imprisonment as the maximum penalty and one year or a fine as the minimum penalty. He spoke of the circumstances attending the slaying of the victim, saying it was the credit of the respondent that criminal negligence rather than criminal intent was the cause of Mr. Earley's death.

In conclusion, the court said that the period during which the respondent was serving his sentence would afford an excellent opportunity for him to reflect upon the crime which had gained the pity of the court and which was responsible for his sad occurrence. The sentence, he said, would moreover serve as a notice to all men who drive through the streets in such a condition as to endanger human life.

PRISONER MAY DIE
FROM HIS WOUNDSDwight Niles Lies in Jail at Newport in a Critical Condition—Wife's Funeral Tomorrow.

Newport, April 2.—The funeral of Louisa Niles who was shot by her husband, Dwight A. Niles, last Saturday night because she would not return to live with him, will be held at ten o'clock tomorrow. An autopsy was performed over the remains yesterday afternoon by Dr. H. H. Stone of Burlington and Dr. Irwin of this town.

Niles who was captured at Richmond Monday morning, was brought back to Newport yesterday afternoon and is in a critical condition because of the wounds inflicted in his neck in an attempt to commit suicide soon after being arrested. At the time the wounds were thought to be of a trivial nature, but after he was brought to the jail here his condition became serious.

The prisoner's father, Avery Niles, a prosperous farmer of Newport Center, was allowed to see his son last night. No statement has been obtained from him by the authorities as to the shooting.

A TALE OF WOE.

Second Street Wants to Know Why It Is Neglected.

To the Editor of the Times:—Kindly allow me a little space in your paper in regard to our streets again. Now at the beginning of spring things don't look very clean, but I bet there's nothing can beat our street (Second street), way of down here. Oh, my such a street for mud and filth. Why is it? Because it has never been fixed in the proper way; that is the reason.

Only once in a while patch it up here and there and that's all good enough for Second street. There is Cottage street, when I first came to Barre it was a awful sight, today it is as nice a street as we have in the city. Why not give us a street the same? I am sure we would appreciate it.

Eagles Hold a Successful
Mask Ball.

The first of the post-Lent balls was held last evening in Woodmen's hall, Bolster block, under the auspices of the Manchester Unity, Odd Ladies, of whom Mrs. Emma Cote is noble lady. It was the fourth Easter ball that the order has held and was the largest attended and most successful of all. During the first part of the evening there were 225 people in the hall. From the start until the last dance was concluded at two o'clock this morning it was one continuous round of pleasure for the large company. The music was furnished by Gilbertson's orchestra of five pieces.

Before the dancing began the Odd Ladies drill team gave their drill and when they had finished the ladies received the generous appreciation that their work merited. For nearly thirty minutes the sixteen ladies in white dresses and pink sashes went through their different formations with military precision, which showed the results of much practice and careful training. Mrs. John Forbes is captain of the team and they have been drilled by A. J. Gravlin. At the close of the drill the grand march was started and fifty couples took part. The march came to a sudden end when the men were left lined up on one side of the hall and the ladies suddenly disappeared to their seats. It finally dawned on the much surprised gentlemen that it was April 1st.

The floor directors were Joseph Graham and William Leith. Miss Minnie Reaside and Miss Mattie Cannon were the committee of introduction. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to the company during intermission. NEW HEALTH OFFICER
IS DR. M. D. LAMBAppointed by Mayor Robins Last Night
—Committee of Doctors Protest Against Lowering the Salary.

Only a small amount of business came before the regular monthly meeting of the city council last evening, but at its conclusion a special meeting of the board of aldermen was called and several appointments were made.

The doctors appeared to object to the lowering of the standard of health in Barre by the cutting of the health officer's salary. Drs. Stickney, Mcweeney and Liguori spoke and the tenor of their remarks was that a $150 man couldn't properly do the work of the office. The doctors were informed the vacancy had already been filled, which brought their remarks to a close.

The request for a building permit to build a "sectional automobile" was referred to the building inspector.

The report of the building inspector for January, February and March showed 42 permits granted in the three months.

A communication from the city attorney was to the effect that the city owned Cold Brook the entire length of the Arley property in Orange. The report was accepted.

WOMAN CONDUCTED
HER OWN CASEMrs. Joanna Galimberti Declared She Couldn't Afford a Lawyer—Is Bound
Over on a Keeping Charge.

The sight of a woman respondent, not able to speak a word of English, conducting her own defense, greeted a court room full of people at city court today when Joanna Galimberti's liquor case, growing out of a raid last Friday night, came up for hearing. The woman refused flatly to have a lawyer, saying that she couldn't afford it; so Tibaldo Gabelloni was drafted as an interpreter, and through him she quizzed the witnesses as she saw fit, although she didn't understand a word that the prosecutor was asking.

Witnesses who said they had bought beer at Mrs. Galimberti's were George Johnston, Henry L. Smith, and A. J. Schneider, while Tom Marr, also called by the prosecution, said that he had not. The officers making the raid were called upon to tell about finding the liquor, after which Judge Scott declared the liquor forfeited, and the costs taxed against the respondent. Then the case for keeping was started, and the same line of testimony was presented. At the conclusion of this, the judge bound the respondent over to county court for trial. Bail was fixed at $300, which was furnished by A. Rostell. The woman appealed on the intoxicating liquor case.

For Information on the Electric Railroad Situation.

Mr. Editor, Barre Daily Times: As a delegate to the Central Labor Union of Barre I wish to extend my thanks for presenting the facts in the electric railroad situation, as stated by the press committee of that body in your issue of April 1st, and while recognizing that it would be impossible to have everything published in your paper in a prominent way, so that the reading public would be sure to see it, and being satisfied that it was impossible for you to have that matter printed in the front page of your paper for that day.

I would respectfully request your permission of drawing the attention of your readers to the fact that if they wish to be conversant with the railroad situation up to date, to look on page two of the Barre Daily Times for April 1st, for the letter presented by the press committee of the C. L. U.

The reasons for my request are that this is a matter of great importance to the city of Barre, affecting the business interests of the city as well as the pockets of the citizens, and also giving a decision of the most important commission, appointed by the legislature of the state of Vermont in relation to a company which has been given a franchise by our city and which is expected to accommodate the public in return for same.

James Mutch.
